Jumping To the Job

Several Utah Valley mountaineers recently clamored over the rocky crags beneath the tramway at Bridal Veil Falls in Provo Canyon to clean litter from the popular tourist attraction.

With the group was Daily Herald reporter Patrick Christian (above) who jumped in to effort by rappelling over the edge with the tram in the background.

"It wasn't your usual garbage pickup and it wasn't your everyday story," says Christian.

Christian has climbed for several years, but admitted that on one 130-foot rappel taking climbers away from the cliff and into the air, he gained renewed respect for potential dangers.

While group members enjoyed the chance to test skills, they said they hoped for less litter to retrieve next time.

Syria Attempts to Bring Peace

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Palestinian and Shiite Moslem men clashed in two Beirut refugee camps today as Syria flared how to end the fighting that has killed more than 100 people since May 19.

sporadic gunfire rocked Sha- and Bourj Brajaneh, two Palestinian refugee camps on southern outskirts of the capital, less than a day after Red Cross workers entered the Bourj refugee camp in a search for bodies.

Shabab fell last week to gunfire from Amal, Lebanon's Shiite militia, but Palestinian defenders still held out in the besieged Shatila and Bourj Barajneh settlements, military sources said.

The sources had no immediate estimate on casualties today.

The fighting came after representatives of both sides met in Damascus Tuesday night with Syrian Vice President Abdel Halim Khaddam, who reportedly made progress in ef-orts to stop the shooting.

Political sources who asked not to be named said Syria wants Amal to lift its siege of the camps, whose defenders then would be allowed to go to the Bekaa Valley in Syrian-controlled in eastern Lebanon.

The sources also said President Amin Gemayel wants diplomats from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China — the five permanent U.N. Security Council members — to ask Israel to abandon the security belt it plans to maintain in southern Lebanon after its military withdrawal this month.

Gemayel, according to the sources, wants Israel to abandon support for its allied militia, the South Lebanon Army, so Lebanese troops can assume security duties in the south. Israel has insisted that the SLA patrol the region after its forces pull out following a three-year occupation of Lebanon.

Group Claims It Bombed Palace

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A previously unknown group calling itself the Islamic Republic Organization has claimed responsibility for last week's rocket attack on Lebanese President Amin Gemayel's palace, newspaper reports said today.

Gemayel, a Christian Maronite, narrowly escaped death May 29 when a salvo of rockets smashed into his private wing of the hilltop palace in Baabda, a Christian palace just southeast of Beirut.

In statements sent to the As-Safir and An-Nahar newspapers Tuesday, the Islamic Republic Organization said it carried out the attack on "the criminal den in Baabda in order to rid Lebanon and the Moslems of the man who betrayed his country and people."

Iran Reports Raid on Capital City

United Press International — Iranian government said which has vowed to continue attacking Iran's vital targets, warplanes streaking over the capital today in a raid that killed at least two people.

invading jet fighters and a high-altitude rocket at the capital at just after 4 a.m. Iran's official Islamic Republic Agency said. Iraq had no comment on the Iranian people were killed and five others injured in the Iraqi raid.

Portugal Minister in Serious Trouble

Lisbon, Portugal (UPI) — The old government of Socialist Prime Minister Mario Soares faces possible collapse with the fall of the Social Democratic Party's coalition Cabinet.

Democrat leader Anibal Cavaco Silva announced Tuesday that seven ministers were to resign the 17-man Cabinet on

Mexico Fires Drug Agents

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The Interior Ministry fired 427 agents and 19 state commanders of its secret police force following a drug trafficking investigation prompted by the murder of a U.S. narcotics agent.

The ministry said Tuesday that the arrests of drug traffickers Rafael Caro Quintero and Ernesto Fonseca, who are charged with the February kidnapping and murder of U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Enrique Camarena Salazar, prompted the probe into the Federal Security Directorate, known as the DFS.

Eight DFS agents were arrested with or named by the two admitted drug smugglers. Caro Quintero carried DFS credentials, according to Federal Judicial Police Commander Armando Pavon Reyes, who is charged with taking $270,000 in exchange for letting Caro Quintero flee after the murder.

Zhao Visits Factories in Scotland

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — Prime Minister Zhao Ziyang of China visited Scottish factories Wednesday to underscore his nation's interest in stepping up trade with Britain.

Zhao, who flew to Edinburgh Tuesday, visited the Anderson

Strathclyde factory in Glasgow which is a major manufacturer of the mining equipment sought by China to improve productivity in its coal industry.

Health Workers Criticize Raid

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Striking health workers blasted President Jose Napoleon Duarte for an army raid, aimed at removing strikers from a Social Security hospital, that led to the deaths of five people.

Nearly half of the 5,000-member Social Security Institute workers union, demanding higher wages and calling for the release of two arrested labor leaders, continued protests in San Salvador's General Hospital Monday.

In an attempt to end the three-week-old strike by the administrative workers, 500 government troops stormed the hospital Sunday, dragging doctors, nurses and patients from their wards.

One patient died of a heart attack and four plainclothes policemen were accidentally shot and killed, reportedly by troops, in the surprise operation.
